

Regional Associate Job Description

Last Updated: October 27th, 2016

In the Autumn of 2015, Defenders Media was established to serve, support, and enhance existing apologetics ministries. In its first year we entered into partnership with six ministries located in five states across the country.

In efforts to increase its presence across the United States, Defenders Media is seeking to grow its ministry staff. For individuals interested in joining a thriving umbrella organization, we have created the Regional Associate position. This position (flexible hours, partial or full time) seeks to help individuals start or enhance their existing apologetics ministry, or to simply aid in the needs of Defenders Media. By joining the Defenders alliance, these laborers will build the brand of Defenders Media, work for top-notch scholars, such as Dr. Mike Licona & Dr. Timothy McGrew, and serve the ministries within the Defenders Media alliance.

The Regional Associate shall serve in the following capacities:

- Outreach to local community
- Network with local churches
- Promote the work of Defenders Media & its alliance, including its online presence
- If representing a pre-existing or new ministry, continue strategically working toward his/her own ministry objectives

The Regional Associate shall have access to:

- Benefits associated with working under a 501(c)(3) recognized organization
- $500-$1,000/year for organizing & hosting a conference or seminar
- A small budget for continuing education (books, certificate programs, etc.)
- If representing a pre-existing or new ministry, strategic support in improving the functionality and growth of such ministry

Compensation: Many apologetics ministries require their devoted laborers to raise their own support. While Regional Associates will have access to the aforementioned benefits, this position is self-supported. However, unlike other similar positions in ministry, Defenders Media will not receive any percentage of the individual's fundraising efforts.

Interested applicants may submit a resume and cover letter detailing your ministry interests, strengths, and aspirations to info@defendersmedia.com. A two-step interview process will be held for qualified candidates prior to the offering of the position.
